ICH LIEBE PERFEKTION

In the world packed with information you need to keep focused on so many things at the same time. Good organization skills are becoming more and more valuable. Less chaos makes room for correct decision making, gives space to new ideas and energy to make them real. Keeping things in order today gives you more freedom tomorrow.

With Axent you experience the power of order in your life. German philosophy of precision, forethought design and durability of materials is at the core of every Axent product.

Axent stationery is meant to assist in organizing your work, each detail completing your professionalism, comfortable and easy to use. Axent stationery helps you organize at the office or at home, working efficiently and with pleasure every step of the way to reach your goals.

For basic Axent office items there is also the Delta series offering more democratic comparable. Functionality, simplicity and universal design are the unfailing characteristics of products in this series.

Flawlessness comes from things some might call simple: a feeling when everything is exactly where it should be, a desire for comfort and a habit to see inspiration in little things.

Axent. Love of flawlessness.

NOTEBOOK
YOU SHOULD REMEMBER
Directors are chosen by the shareholders to manage the corporation. They occupy a fiduciary (trust) relationship to the shareholders. This trust relationship requires an uncompromising duty of loyalty to the corporation, no usurpation of corporate opportunity, no personal use of corporate assets, no unfair dealing in the corporation's stock, and the exercise of reasonably good judgment in managing corporate affairs.
The bylaws generally provide for the number and qualifications of directors. Most state statutes permit the directors to provide reasonable compensation for themselves. Directors must personally attend board meetings. they cannot attend by proxy
